PIERCE'S POSITION.

If Appearing at St. Louis Will Be Taken to Austin.

Austin, Oct. 20.—District Attorney James R. Hamilton, who has charge of the prosecution of Henry Clay Pierce in the event he is brought back to Texas, said that unless Pierce surrenders in court at St. Louis, his $40,000 bond will be declared forfeited, as the action of the United States supreme court remands Pierce back to the St. Louis court. If Pierce goes back to St. Louis then he will be held until the arrival of Sheriff Matthews from here and Pierce will be brought back to stand trial. In the event Pierce refuses to go to St. Louis and remains in Massachusetts District Attorney Hamilton said that a new requisition will be issued by the governor of Texas on the governor of Massachusetts for the extradition of Pierce.

Mr. Hamilton also said that in the trial of Pierce on the false swearing charge it will be necessary to show connection between Standard Oil and Waters-Pierce companies as that is the basis on which Pierce was indicted. Officials here declined to express themselves on the outcome of the trial. Sheriff Matthews has received no word from St. Louis or Washington as to the case.

Will Hunt in Texas.

Austin, Oct. 20.—Chief Quanah Parker, the famous Indian chief, now at Cache, Okla., is coming to the happy hunting grounds of Texas to hunt. Game Warden Lorraine received a remittance of $120 in payment of eight non-resident hunters' licenses for Chief Parker and seven other Indian braves and chiefs. Parker says in his letter that he will go direct to Quanah, Hardeman county, from which point the hunting expedition will start. Quanah is prominently identified with Texas history and was born in Wichita county.

Again Arrested.

Waco, Oct. 20.—Following El Paso instructions, where the Federal grand jury indicted Antonio Araujo, an alleged Mexican revolutionist, on a charge of violating the neutrality laws, Araujo was re-arrested here on the El Paso warrant and will be taken to San Antonio for trial. Other cases were transferred to the Del Rio district.

Placed Under Bond.

Anderson, Tex., Oct. 20.—L. O. Barnes, charged with killing Cecil and E. L. Hall at Bedias, thirty miles north of here, were placed under $2,500 bail on his examining trial today. Barnes was also wounded. Barnes and Cecil Hall quarreled and the latter men met at E. L. Hall's store after the latter fell, the bullet carrying away part of the lip and teeth. The parties are prominent.

Headquarters at Dallas.

Lockhart, Tex., Oct. 20.—Chairman Storey of the state Democratic executive committee has announced he will maintain headquarters at the Oriental hotel, Dallas, Nov. 3, and requests all county chairmen to send returns that night. All members of the committee are asked to attend.

Head Completely Severed.

Ennis, Tex., Oct. 20.—Andy Welsh, aged eighty years, long a Houston and Texas Central employe, lately retired, attempted to crawl under a freight train in the yards Tuesday when cars started. His head was completely severed. He leaves an aged widow and son, the latter being at Cleburne.

Dowager Queen Consents.

London, Oct. 20.—A special dispatch received here from Rome says Margherita, dowager queen of Italy, has at last consented to the marriage of Duke of Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins. King Victor Emmanuel's present to the bride-to-be, according to the same source, will be a diamond tiara valued at $100,000.

Galveston Cotton Receipts.

Galveston, Oct. 20.—Net cotton receipts Monday were 22,538 bales.

CABOOSE BLOWN AWAY.

Unprecedented Accident Happens to Train.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 20.—As the result of an unprecedented accident on the Union Pacific at Lone Tree Creek, thirty miles west of Cheyenne, six laborers are known to be dead, while twenty-five or thirty others were badly injured, many seriously. A terrific gale picked up the caboose of a work train, tore it away from its couplings and carried it over the edge of a fill. It dropped thirty feet with its forty occupants, nearly all of whom were section laborers, and the men were piled up among the wreckage when it landed.

"BEERLESS LEADER."

Prohibition Candidate So Terms Himself at New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 20.—"The Democratic platform is like a Mother Hubbard dress, it covers everything and touches nothing," said Eugene W. Chafin, Prohibition candidate for president, here.

"The Prohibition platform comprises only 321 words. This is the ninetieth day of my campaign. I've made on an average of five speeches a day and covered twenty-five states, speaking everywhere to splendid audiences. I've had a fine time and I've gained five pounds. If the campaign lasted long enough, I'd weigh as much as Taft. There are seven of us running for president. Did I say seven? I mean six. The Socialist labor candidate is in the penitentiary. He's not running. They call him the 'Beerless Leader.' He is. He's in jail. Then there's the 'Fearless Leader,' that Taft. The 'Peerless Leader,' that's Bryan, and last of all there's the 'Beerless Leader,' that's me."

Dead Man Was Prominent.

Nashville, Oct. 20.—R. Z. Taylor, who was killed Monday night, was the father of the well-known Vanderbilt football star, Hillsman Taylor, who was married to Miss Katherine Taylor, daughter of Senator Robert Taylor, last fall. Captain Rankin was also a prominent lawyer of Trenton. He was captain of a military company in the Spanish-American war and served in Cuba with distinguished ability.

Foully Murdered.

Trenton, Tenn., Oct. 20.—Captain Quinten Rankin, a leading lawyer, was taken from a hotel at Walnut Log on Reel Foot lake and foully murdered and Colonel R. Z. Taylor who was with him, has not been found. A message states a man's body had been found near where Captain Rankin was found, supposed to be Taylor's.

Reward For Murderers.

Memphis, Oct. 20.—Governor Patterson has offered a reward of $10,000 for the arrest of the persons guilty of the murder of Colonel Taylor and Captain Rankin on Reel Foot lake.

Scene from the Second Act of "A Winter's Tale;" in which Mr. Charles B. Hanford is booked to appear at the Grand Opera House.

Another Way Out of It.

Nobody had ever had reason to accuse Abel Pond of being dishonest, but he was as sharp a man in a bargain as could be found in the county. When the building committee applied to him for a site for the new library he was ready to sell them a desirable lot, but not at their price.

"I couldn't feel to let it go under $600," he said, with the mild obstinacy that characterized all his dealings with his fellow men. "It wouldn't be right."

"You ought to be willing to contribute something for such an object," said the chairman of the committee. "If it's worth six hundred, why not let us have it for five hundred and call it you've given the other hundred?"

"M'm-no, I couldn't do that," said Mr. Pond, stroking his chin. "but I tell you what I will do. You give me seven hundred for it, and I'll make out a check for a hundred and hand it over to you, so's you can head the list of subscriptions with a good round sum and kind of wake up folks to their duty."—Youth's Companion.

A Real Apology.

"When the late Joel Chandler Harris was an editor here among us," said an Atlantian, "I called on him one day and found him very willing to correct an error about me that crept into his columns."

"We talked about newspaper contradictions, public apologies and the like, and 'Uncle Remus' took down a scrapbook and read me an apology that was an apology indeed. It had happened, he said, in a Transvaal paper. I'll never forget it. I agreed with Mr. Harris that it was the finest specimen of the public apology and retraction extant. It said:

"I, the undersigned, A. C. du Plessis, retract hereby everything I have said against the innocent Mr. G. P. Bezuidenhout, calling myself an infamous liar and striking my mouth with the exclamation: 'You mendacious mouth! Why do you lie so?' I declare, further, that I know nothing against the character of Mr. G. P. Bezuidenhout. I call myself, besides, a genuine liar of the first class."

"A. C. DU PLESSIS."

Then He Got His.

A young Lancashire lad joined the army and soon after his arrival at headquarters got into trouble. Accordingly he had to face his commanding officer next morning.

The usual preliminaries were gone through, when, contrary to orderly room etiquette, the recruit commenced to defend himself.

"Silence!" roared the adjutant. "Thou shut up," said the prisoner. "I'm not speaking to thee. I'm talking to the old chap in the chair."—London Scraps.

The Elder Robert Fulton.

Robert Fulton was born at Little Britain, Lancaster county, Pa., Nov. 14, 1765. His biographers have called him "a self-made man" and have made but brief reference to his parentage. It is noteworthy that his father, the senior Robert Fulton, in a failure to leave financial patrimony to his children has not been accorded the mention of other achievements, not slight in those primitive days. His ancestors crossed from Scotland to Ireland prior to the time of Cromwell. From Kilkenny, Ireland, the Fulton family came to America before the year 1735. The senior Robert Fulton was among the prominent men of Lancaster, his name having been on record upon all the town organizations which existed at that period. He was a founder of the Presbyterian church, the secretary of the Union Fire company and a charter member of the Juliana library of Lancaster, the third library established in the American colonies.—Century.

The Fourmillion.

"In the Sahara," said an explorer, "there is a little insect that throws sand, and its volleys slay. They call it the fourmillion. The fourmillion digs itself a funnel shaped hole of the circumference of a silver dollar. It lies hidden and watchful in the bottom of this hole, and when a spider or ant or beetle comes cautiously prospecting down the steep and slippery sides the inhosptible fourmillion launches upon its guest volley after volley of sand—a hail of stinging sand so abundant, so suffocating, so blinding that the visitor loses his head. He rolls unconscious for the nonce to the bottom of the hole, and the fourmillion calmly dismembers him before he has time to remember him before he has time to die."—To illustrate such and such a thing.

The Mullahs of India.

A mullah, or, as it is more properly written, mollah, is a title given in India and throughout the east generally to a religious leader of any description. Thus the sultan of Turkey is a mollah, because he is the supreme head of the moslem world. And there are hundreds of others. To most of the more conspicuous among them we prefix the adjective "mad." This, however, must not be taken to mean that they are insane, the word being used rather in its oriental significance of "inspired." The person of the mollah is sacred. Not even the mighty Habibullah himself would care to lay a sacrilegious finger on one of these saintly personages. If he were to venture such an unheard of thing, vengeance would surely overtake him. For it is the cardinal principle of the Ullima—as the mollahs are collectively termed—that an injury purposely caused to one of their number can only be atoned for by the death of the individual inflicting it.

Greatest Danger to Swimmers.

"It isn't cramp," said a life guard, "that carries off so many good swimmers. After all, what is a leg or arm cramp? Couldn't a good swimmer easily turn on his back and float till the attack departed? No, cramp won't account for the strange seizures that in a twinkling turn a very fish of a swimmer into a helpless, speechless, drowning paralytic. What accounts for this business is water inhaling. A swimmer inhales spray through the nostrils, it passes through the pharynx, behind the epiglottis or windpipe guard and so down into the windpipe. The result is nearly certain death. Swallowing water does you no harm, but breathing it may kill you. How to avoid accidentally breathing it, though that is a question nobody seems able to answer."—Philadelphia Bulletin

Ice and Mice.

For horses suffering from inflammation of the lungs an old prescription was a mixture of shot and powder in milk. This has even been applied to human beings. In "Idlehurst" mention is made of sparrow shot, five or six to the dose, to be taken twice a day, as a remedy for "brown kilters," which is believed by the English farm laborers to be caused by the "lights" (their term for lungs) rising up the windpipe. The shot is supposed to weight them down in their rightful place. Sussex, England, is the scene of "Idlehurst." It was a Sussex woman who was ordered by the doctor to put some ice in a bag and bind it on the temples of her sick boy. Inquiring after his patient the next day, the physician received the reply, "Oh, Tommy's better, but the mice are dead!"

His Cough Cure.

"In my boyhood there came to our town," said a clergyman, "a gentle minister who, the very first Sunday of his incumbency, stopped effectually his coughing congregation."

"It was a congregation, too, singularly addicted to coughing. Rattling volleys of coughs ran over it every few minutes. The minister, indeed, that first Sunday could hardly make himself heard. He had rather a weak voice."

"Well, after his sermon had proceeded for ten or twelve minutes, now audible enough, now drowned under great waves of coughs, he took a revolution, and when the next outbreak was at its height he ceased preaching."

"At once the coughing ceased. There was a profound silence. The minister smiled."

"My friends," said he, "it seems that when I stop you stop."

"From that day in that church they coughed no more."

Stoves

Some nights have been warm during the last week. Possibly just as many have been cool. In but a very short time all the nights will be cool. This will cause a chaotic turmoil in the general stove traffic, with the result that the belated purchaser will suffer inconvenience and perhaps hardship by being caught in a chilly house should a sudden spell of frosty weather ensue. If in need of a HEATING STOVE avoid all this by ordering at once and having it set up within forty-eight hours at the latest.

ANENT POLITICS.

"Why dear! Come in and sit down—do;
To see you I am pleased all through
And glad and so delighted too.

"How well you look! But here and there
You do show signs of wear and tear—
Still one can see you once were fair.

"If you would a masseuse engage
She might remove those marks of age
And renovation is the rage.

"And dearie, I have heard them say
An interest in things of today
Is good for those somewhat passe.

"Try politics—it's awful sweet;
It is a game of cheat and beat
And is just like a big club meet.

"It is something that is about
Two men (one fat, the other stout)
And means to take on and to shout.

"Which one you want to be made
King
Or notary-public or some such thing,
And this is done till you make ring

"A sort of ball called a welkin.
I think it is some kind of kin
To Belle Chestnut, but built of tin.

"Between O'Brian and Will Taft
Plies politics—a wobbly craft
Which makes some sick and others daff.

"O'Brian is a sweet, good man
But is not on a modish plan—
The pompadour he'd surely ban.

"For long ago did flee and fade
All signs of a hirsute facade
From his cerebral dome. Dismayed

"Would be the tressless ones if he Should gain dominion over we,
For goodness gracious—bully gee!

"He would pronounce a fierce fiat
Against the unordained rat—
Then where, I say, would we be at?

"And Taft is a nice ample dear
But on him do these words appear:
"Hurrah for Cincinnati beer!"

"By mocking his unlikable wont
It is most sure that the straight front
Would laws lese majesty affront.

"Now what is a poor girl to do
Between the terrors of these two?
I think it is so mean—don't you?"

"If it were not for the 'naugural ball
We'd make the men postpone or call
Off the whole horrid thing—that's all!"

Farmers' Congress at Tyler.

Tyler, Texas, Oct. 20.—(Special to Bryan Morning Eagle).—A large attendance marked the opening here today of the Farmers' Congress, for which preparations have been going on for some time. The morning was occupied with the exchange of greetings and the work of organization. The feature of the afternoon session was an address upon the development of agriculture in the South delivered by S. A. Knapp of the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

Callaway—Kellogg Wedding.

New York, Oct. 20.—(Special to Bryan Morning Eagle).—A wedding of interest in high society today was that of Miss Elsie McIntosh Kellogg and Trowbridge Callaway in All Angels' Church. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Laffin Kellogg and a great grand niece of John Bigelow, the noted writer and diplomat. Mr. Callaway, the bridegroom, is a son of the late Samuel Rodger Callaway, once president of the New York Central Railroad.

Restaurant Affiliation.

The waiter in the light lunch cafe looked expectantly at the first of five men who had just entered.
"Bring me a coffee cake and a cup of coffee," ordered the first man.
"I'll take some milk biscuit and a glass of milk," said the second.
"Tea buns and a cup of tea, please," remarked the third.
"A piece of coconut pie and a cup of cocoa," said the fourth.
The waiter passed on to the fifth man.

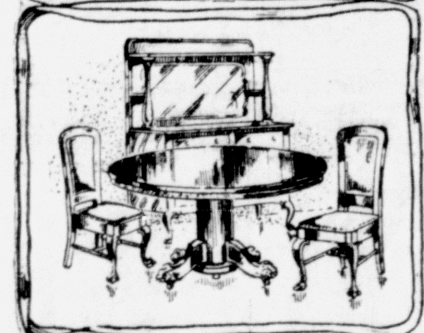

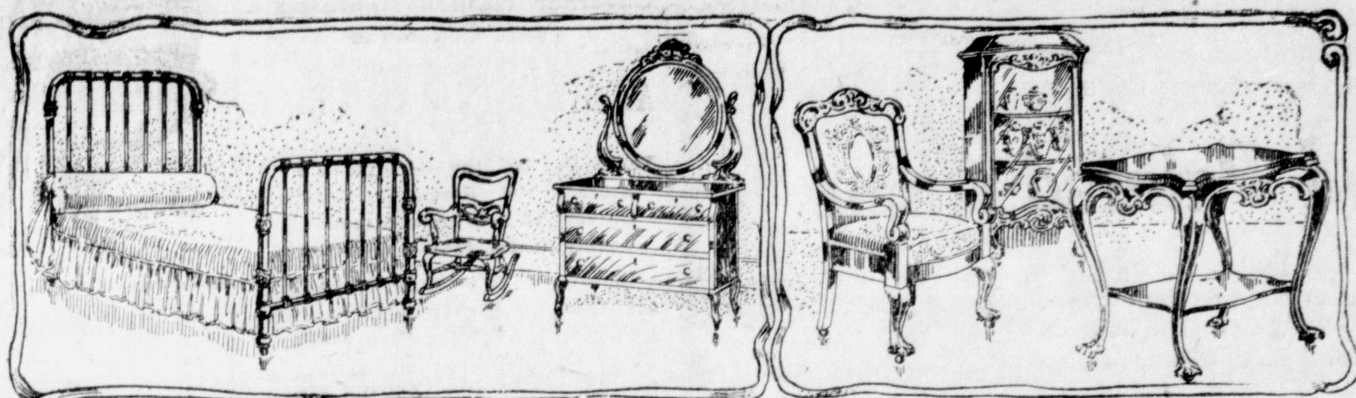

"Don't say it, don't say it!" he pleaded. "I know what you want. You want a slice of chocolate cake and a cup of chocolate."

"No; I do not," protested the fifth man. "I want a plate of ice cream and a glass of ice water."—Judge's Library.

Not Very Funny.

"I did my best to be entertaining," said the young man in a voice of sorrow.

"Did you succeed?"
"I'm afraid not. I recited Hamlet's soliloquy. She looked at me reproachfully for several seconds and then exclaimed: 'I don't think that's very funny.'"

Handsome Spanish Imposter Discovered Because of His Decoration.

Madrid, Oct. 20.—(Special to the Bryan Morning Eagle).—All Spain is excited over the adventures of a handsome, plausible young man, who, in the style of the Koepenick shoemaker, has carried out a remarkable imposture. The adventurer, Emile San Pedro, is now being tried for illegally wearing a military uniform and military decorations to which he was not entitled.

Pedro a year ago was living at Gibraltar, where he passed himself off as the son of a general who fought in Cuba. He became engaged to the daughter of one of the officers of the garrison, but before the marriage he was arrested on a charge of fraud and taken to Barcelona, but there the proceedings were dropped. Then Pedro turned up in London, where he posed as the son of a member of the Spanish cabinet, and was received into the best society.

Leaving England he crossed the Channel, accompanied by a man said to be an Englishman, and on landing in France he called himself the "Prince of Battenberg," and proudly announced himself as a brother of the Queen of Spain. Before leaving for Paris Pedro sent a telegram to the Spanish and British ambassadors in Paris, announcing that the Prince of Battenberg and his secretary would arrive in the French capital at a certain hour. When the train reached Paris the two adventurers found waiting to receive them representatives of the two embassies and the French Government, and a guard of honor.

The pair left a day afterwards for Spain, and they were next heard of at Saragossa. There they put up at a leading hotel and were entertained by the governor and the mayor. From Saragossa they traveled to Toledo, where they were equally successful in imposing upon the authorities. In the course of a round of festivities given in their honor, the "Prince" made the acquaintance of Cardinal Sancha, the Primate of Spain. As he was about to quit the city the "Prince" suddenly discovered that he was short of ready money, so he borrowed 5,000 pesetas from the Cardinal, but being of a generous disposition, he handed back 1,000 pesetas for the poor of Toledo.

Pedro was finally arrested in this city, while passing himself as a captain of artillery. His downfall was due largely to his overwhelming vanity. He purchased a number of Spanish decorations and pinned them to his uniform. The first day he wore them the fraud was detected, and Pedro was arrested. Bit by bit the police have pieced together his life story, which is one of the most remarkable to be found in the police records of Continental Europe. After Pedro's arrest his companion disappeared and has not yet been found.

Flint Richard, colored, aged 37 years died Monday and was buried Tuesday afternoon, the funeral being conducted by the U. B. of F. a colored fraternal society of which deceased was a member.

LITTLE LOCALS.

Mr. W. T. Cobb of Grimes county was a visitor to the Eagle office Tuesday afternoon and brought with him samples of Japanese persimmons from a young tree growing on his place and a stalk of Japan ribbon cane. The latter is somewhat of a novelty. It is diminutive in size compared with the ribbon cane grown in the Brazos bottom. The little foreigner is said to turn out a fair yield of syrup and grows well on poor land. Mr. Cobb had about one fourth of an acre planted on his place.

An informal dance to their lady friends was tendered by the Elks of this city at their club rooms last night. Like all other affairs in which the Elks interest themselves, this was an enjoyable success.

Mr. George Higgs possessed himself of two possums yesterday, which together with sweet potatoes and other condiments, will be served to a party of his friends tonight.

A. & M. DIRECTORS.

Expresses Appreciation to Those Who Aided in Extinguishing Fire.

Whereas, on the 9th of October a fire occurred in the Agricultural Building at the A. & M. College, threatening the destruction of the same, and had it not been for the heroic efforts of the student body, the building would have been destroyed. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Directors tender to the Cadets their sincere thanks for the heroism displayed in saving the building.

Whereas, The Voluntary Firemen from Bryan manifested that spirit of heroism that is always characteristic of the volunteer firemen of Texas, by making a special effort to assist in saving said building by securing a special train from Bryan to College, be it

Resolved, That the thanks of this body is due and is hereby tendered to the Volunteer Firemen of Bryan.

Whereas, The I. & G. N. Railroad furnished to the Volunteer Firemen a special train from Bryan to College for the purpose of extinguishing the fire, be it Resolved, That the thanks of this Board be extended to said Railroad, and.

That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the Minutes of the Board, a copy furnished the College Battalion, the Volunteer Firemen of Bryan, the I. & G. N. Railroad, and to the Press.

THE COTTON MARKET.

There was nothing of interest in the cotton market yesterday. The difference in the price paid for low grade and good grade cotton was widened, and basis marked down 1-6c. Up to the present there has been a difference of 1-4c between strict low middling and basis, and a difference of 1-8c between middling and higher grades. The price under the revision of Tuesday makes a difference of 3-8 between middling and the next lower grade.

Liverpool came in as predicted, 1 point up, and closed 1 1-2 up. The American markets opened practically unchanged, ruled very narrow during the whole of the session and closed 6 points better than Monday.

The poor demand for spots, or rather the heavy offering of spots over the country generally knocked 1-16 off the already low price at which the staple was selling.

Spot quotations:

Strict low middling, 8c.

Middling, 8 3-8c.

Strict middling, 8 1-2c.

Good middling, 8 5-8c.

Sales Tuesday, 75 bales.

Liverpool is due 2 points up this morning.

Receipts at all United States ports Monday, 70,703 bales, against 55,826 same date last year; for the season, 1,858,842 against 1,342,294 same date last year, or an increase of 516,548 bales over last season.

To the victor may belong the spoils, but the vanquished in the Villa Maria-T. W. C. basket ball game Saturday last were more than winners in the happy hour following when the Dragons entertained the T. W. C. Dixies at an informal masquerade at the college, in which the people of many nations were represented, including, Chinamen, Indians, Negroes, Spaniards, Irishmen, Japs and black cats. Miss Gladys Barron and Miss Anna Gunter won the prize offered. Refreshments of frozen fruit, New York ice cream, assorted cakes, Roquefort cheese and coffee demi tasse were served.

Pleasant For the Bride.

At the close of a wedding breakfast a gentleman noted for his blunders rose to his feet, causing keen anxiety to all who knew him. "Ladies and gentlemen," he cried genially, "I drink to the health of the bridegroom. May he see many days like this!"

Poor Board.

"I see," said Mrs. Stavem, "that a certain scientist claims we'll soon get a palatable food from wood!"
"Well," growled the cranky boarder, "it seems impossible to get it out of board."—Philadelphia Press.

It is a brief period of life that is granted us by nature, but the memory of a well spent life never dies.—Cicero.

An Odd Legacy.

Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the Jefferson family of actors, was remembered curiously in the will of Weston, who was himself an esteemed member of Garrick's company. Weston's will contained this item:

"I have played under the management of Mr. Jefferson at Richmond and received from him every politeness. I therefore leave him all my stock of prudence, it being the only good quality I think he stands in need of."

Not So Blind.

"Miranda, I want to ask you to marry me and to tell me—"

"Oh, George, this is a splendid idea. I have decided on you for my wife."

—Mother Brooklyn Life.

A WONDERFUL POSTER

As a substantial evidence that Lithography is making rapid and wonderful strides the above cut is reproduced. It represents a new 24-sheet poster, measuring 106 inches in height and 238 inches in length, designed and executed by the United States Lithograph Company, the famous Russell-Morgan Print—of Cincinnati. It is Lithographed in 6 colors, pure gold bronze forming the background, and is said to be the most expensive and dignified poster ever placed on the bill-boards. This is the first instance in which gold bronze has successfully withstood the weather. The poster represents Mr. Charles B. Hanford surrounded by the numerous characters he has played, and is receiving much attention for its beauty and artistic instructiveness.

KILLING OF THE HALLS.

They and Barnes Were Alone Together at the Time—All Old Residents of Bedias

Bedias, Tex., Oct. 19.—The killing of Lee and Cecil Hall, reported by the News correspondent Saturday, has cast a gloom over this entire country. The difficulty occurred between Cecil Hall and L. O. Barnes, in which Hall was killed, being shot three or four times, and Barnes was hit a glancing shot on the chin, but is not seriously hurt.

Lee Hall was an innocent party, supposed to be trying to keep down the difficulty. He was hit twice; once through the body, supposed to have been stray bullets.

Mr. O. L. Barnes is a druggist at this place and a prominent farmer and stock man. Cecil Hall ran a Hiawatha joint and a barber shop here. Mr. Lee Hall was a dealer in general merchandise and has extensive farming interests. All the parties to this terrible affair were raised here and all had families, and up to two hours before the killing were friends. The shooting took place in a store room at the back of Lee Hall's store and the two dead men and Mr. Barnes were all who were in the house. What was seen through the door appears to be all that is known.

A steam pump was received here over the H. & T. C. yesterday for Mr. E. J. Fountain, to be used in pumping the 4½ inch well on his Brazos bottom plantation.

The supreme court of the United States has, according to news dispatches, decided against Henry Clay Pierce and denies his application in the Texas case. Extradition was ordered and he was arrested in St. Louis.

Vast Concourse

AT STATE FAIR OF TEXAS.

Texas Praised, the Republican Party Scored, the President Criticized, Bravery of Confederates Lauded and Governmental Affairs Discussed.

Dallas, Oct. 20.—Before an audience that numbered over 6,000 persons, Hon. Chas. N. Haskell, governor of Oklahoma, delivered an address before the grand stand on the grounds of the State Fair of Texas this morning.

Accompanied by his wife, other members of his family, his staff, the latter in military uniforms, the Oklahoma executive was given an ovation upon his appearance in the mammoth steel grand stand.

Ex-Mayor Curtis P. Smith was master of ceremonies. He introduced Rev. J. W. Hill, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, who invoked the blessing of God.

Mayor Hay Welcomed the governor and party to Dallas and introduced Hon. W. H. Clark of this city, who in well chosen words presented Governor Haskell.

When the governor arose to speak the vast multitude arose and heartily cheered him. The governor prefaced his remarks by saying it afforded him more pleasure to be presented by Mayor Hay the prize—the glorious honor of looking into the faces of so many Texans; that he would rather meet such a grand gathering than be the recipient of the $1,000 he did not get on the wager "I won from the Republican state committee of Oklahoma, as should they have paid my sight draft I fear it might have been necessary to deodorize every dollar."

The executive said it was an additional pleasure to visit the fair on Confederate day, paying a touching tribute to the memory of those who wore the gray during the days of the civil war.

He then spoke of Texas' wonderful growth and of her giant strides in the growth of population, predicting that in 1920 Oklahoma would have the honor of being bounded on the south by the first commonwealth in the Union, both in area and population.

About this time so dense was the throng about the governor that he requested permission to discard his coat. "Yes," yelled thousands, and one was suggested that he also pull off his vest and go after Hearst.

Considerable time was devoted to discussing governmental affairs, the governor contending that this was a matter all should have an interest in. He dwelt at length on the trusts, dealing particularly with the United States Steel corporation.

A high compliment was paid the former Texan who had helped frame the constitution of Oklahoma.

The bank guaranty law of Oklahoma was explained, and the governor declared it was a complete success, causing much money to be sent into his state for deposit.

President Roosevelt was referred to as the "man of many words" and he was sharply criticized, the "Ohio incident" relative to the alleged attempt to bribe ex-Attorney General Monnett of that state, being touched on.

"In passing through an Indiana town last week," said the speaker, "I noticed a building with this inscription upon it: 'This factory will be reopened the Monday after Taft is elected president.' Why the deuce was it closed?" I asked my wife, but with all her womanly intuition she could not answer the question."

The governor's remarks were loudly applauded throughout, and the several points he made aroused tremendous enthusiasm.

The Bryan and Kern club entertained the governor and party in excellent style, as did also the fair officials. The day was Bryan day as well as Confederate day.
